

My blanket is blue and Moms' is purple.

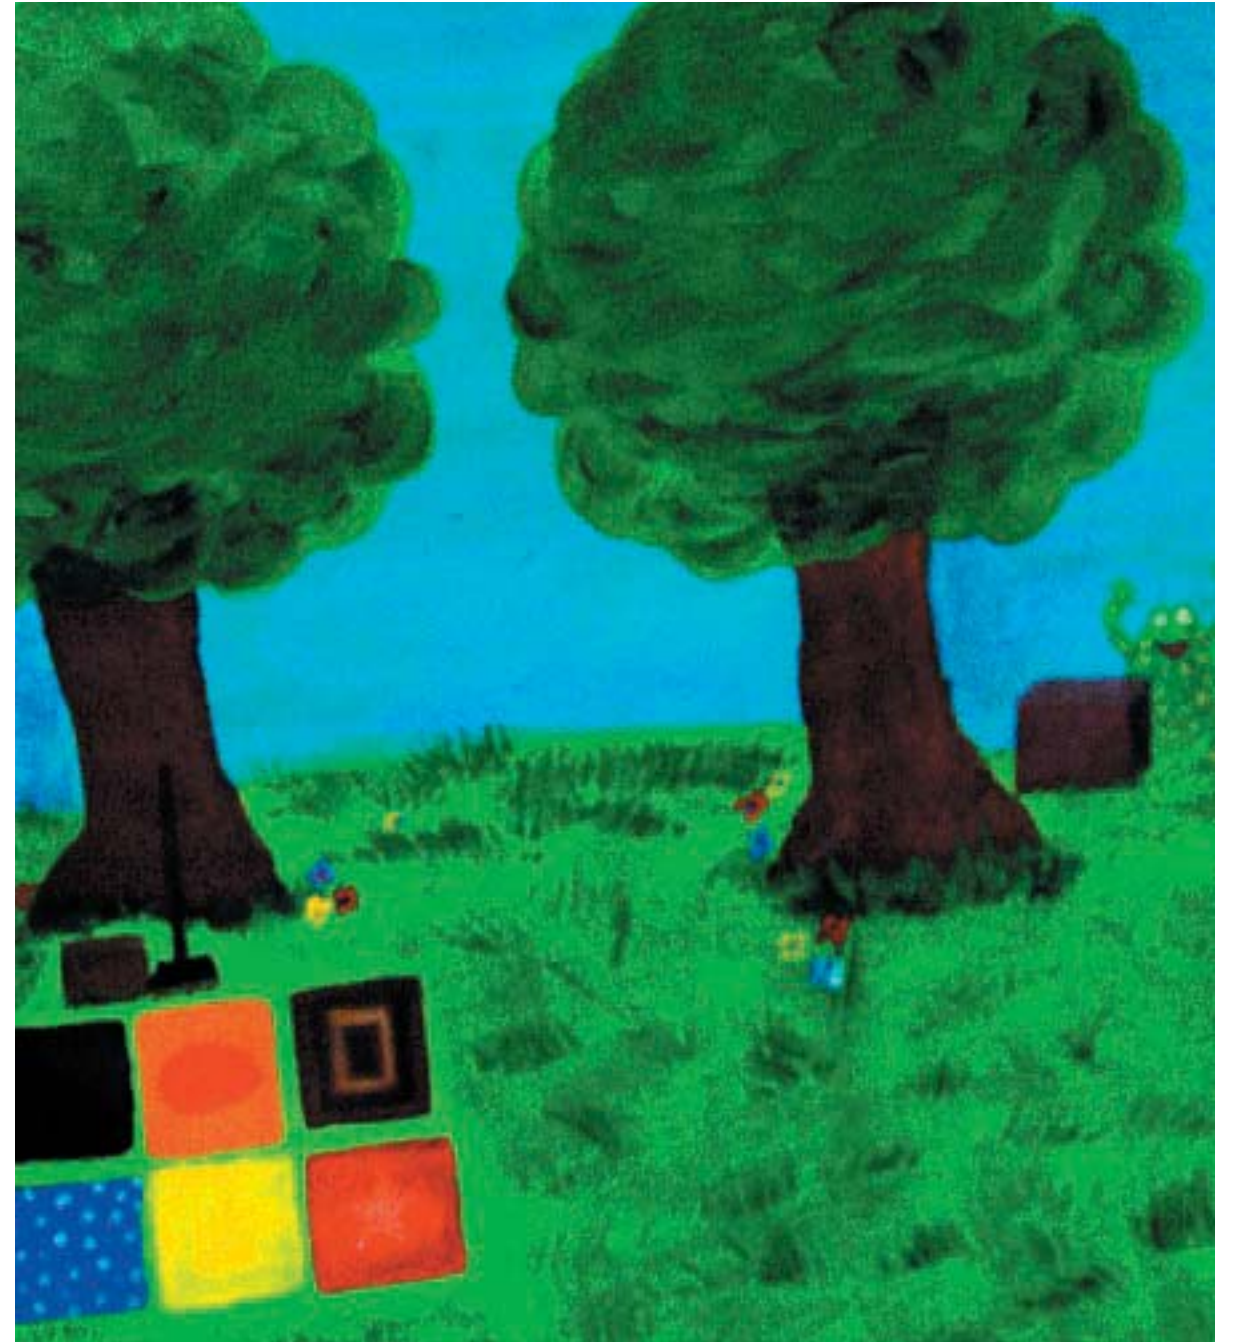

We put the vacuum cleaner, a broom, and our picnic basket under the table. We prayed that God would keep us safe on our adventure.

Our boat docked at Candy Roll Island. Mom whispered, “Kids, bring the picnic basket, and blankets. Jack, you bring the vacuum cleaner. I’ll bring the Bible and the broom.” We walked up the trail to Candy Roll Ridge and filled our candy jar along the way.

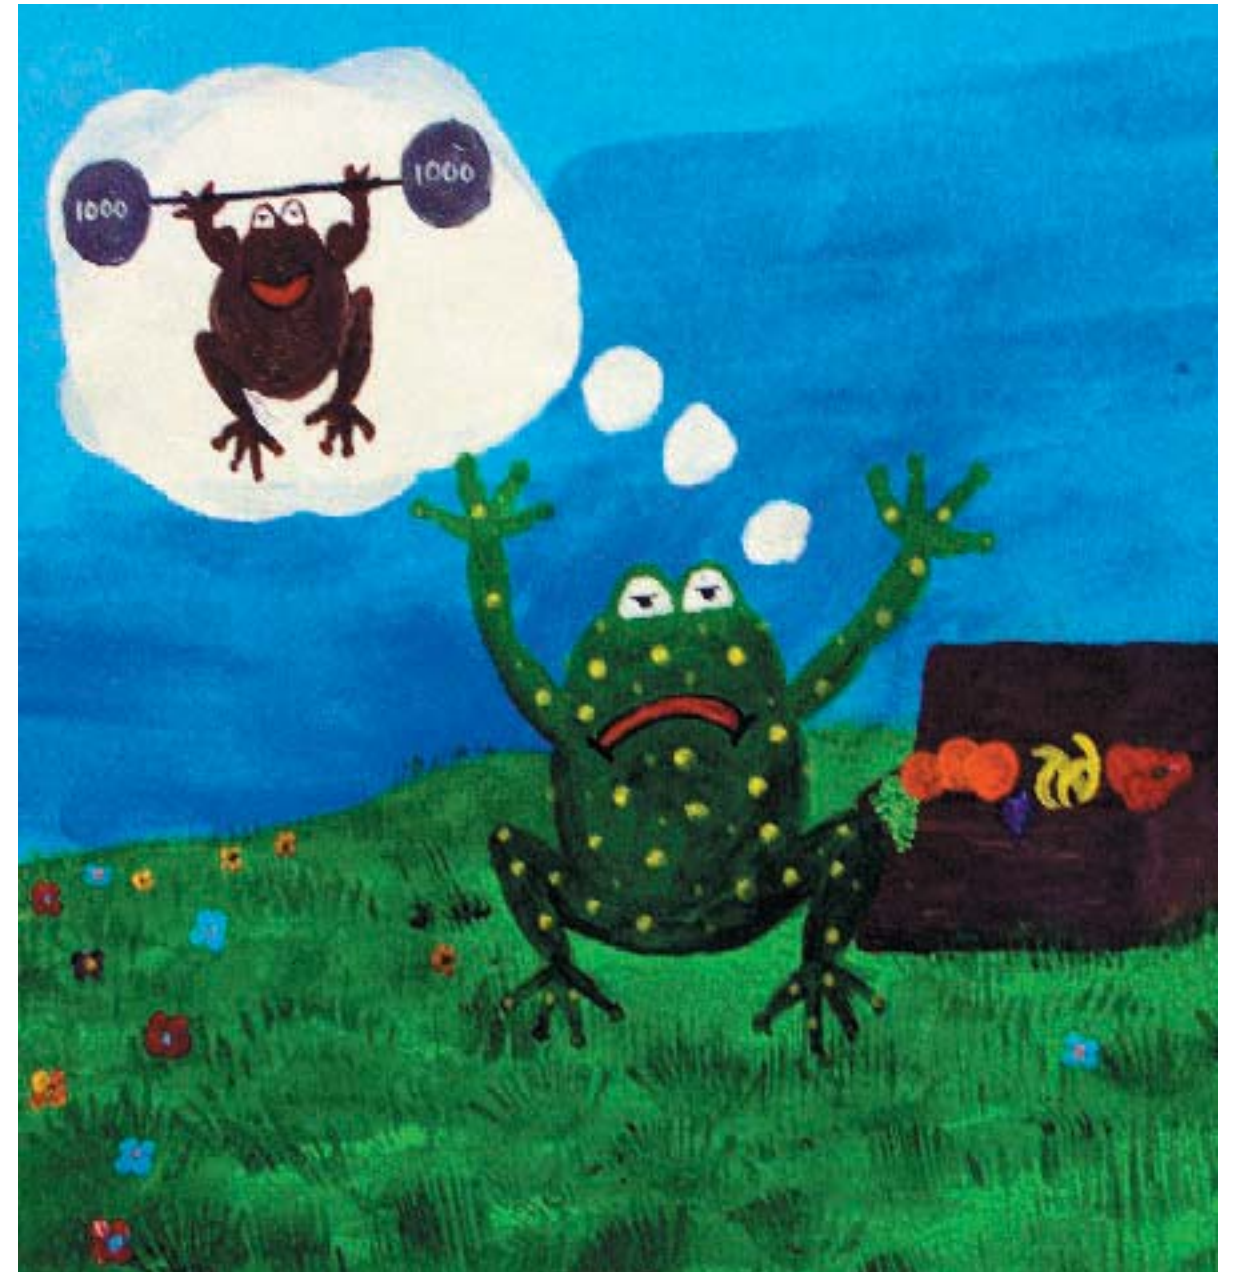

We laid our blankets on the grass under the big oak tree. Mom took fruits and veggies out of our picnic basket. We could see Edward the toad sneaking from tree to tree. He stopped under a maple tree and was hiding behind a box. We prayed and gave thanks to God for the good food to eat.

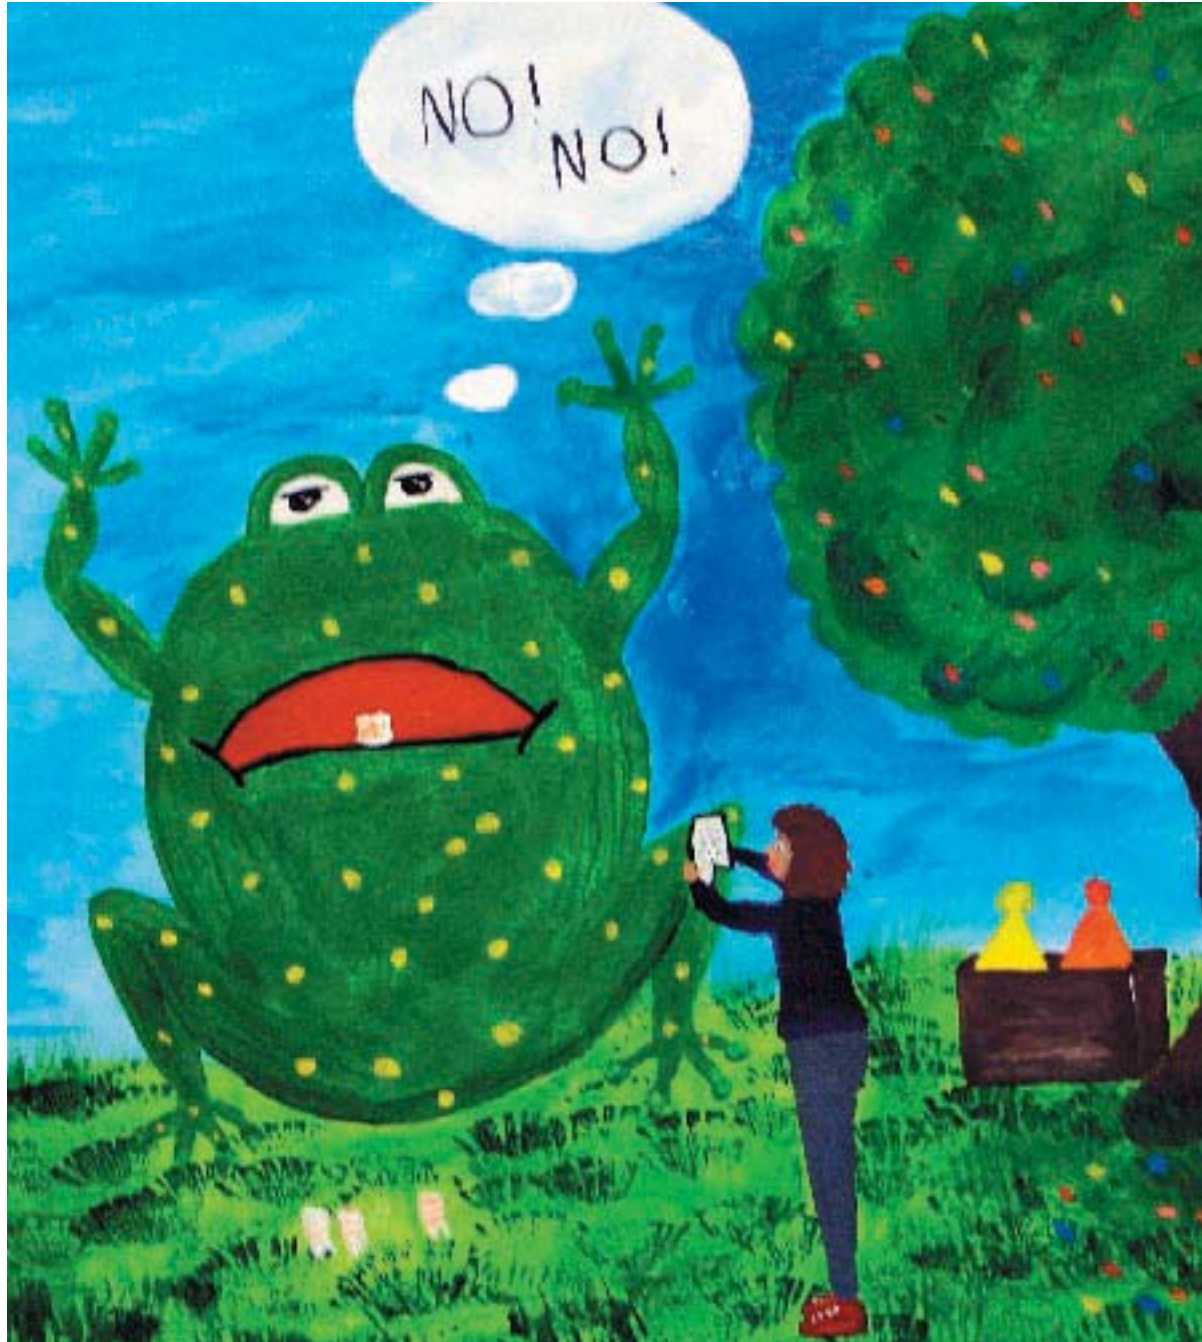

When Edward saw our jar filled with his candy rolls, he hopped right at us with a mighty shout. “I want all my candy rolls back or I’ll take your hat and you will be sent home to do housework all day without any time to play.” We told him, “We will give you your candy rolls if you will come and sit with us.”

Edward agreed. “Your food smells so good,” he said. After lunch, he told us, “I like your food. It feels good in my belly.” Mom told Edward about the Holy Spirit and God. God wants us to take care of our bodies by eating foods that are good for us. Good food helps us to be happy and healthy. Edward said, “But I don’t know how to stop eating candy. It’s so yummy.” Mom said, “First we must pick up all the candy rolls and put them in the garbage.”

“No, no,” shouted Edward. “I can’t.” “Edward, calm down. Would you like to hear another story?” asked Mom. “Yes, please,” said Edward. Mom read a story about a man named Jesus. If you ask Jesus into your heart and pray, He will help you give up candy rolls.

We helped Edward “the mean, green, not very clean toad” say a prayer. After accepting Jesus into his heart and eating his fruits and veggies, Edward began to hop about, shouting, “I feel so good inside. Thank you, Jesus.” Edward turned brown, his warts went away and his teeth grew back.
